Police arrest Shreveport man tied to string of sex offenses

Suspect Shawn Craig Coleman

Shreveport Police have arrested a man they believe committed at least four counts of Obscenity and one Sexual Battery dating back to late May 2017.

Back on May 29, 2017, investigators with the Shreveport Police Department's Sex Crimes Unit began investigating reports of a white male publicly engaging in explicit sexual behavior in the South Broadmoor and South Highlands neighborhoods. Investigators and patrol officers worked together tirelessly to track the individual and identify him. Through witness reports, information gathered at all of the scenes, and information provided by the victims, police were able to identify Shawn Craig Coleman, 25, of the 400 block of Monrovia Street as the alleged suspect.

Coleman was charged with four counts of Obscenity and one count of Sexual Battery and booked into the Shreveport City Jail on his charges. His bond totaled $150,000.00.
