FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Morning shooting leaves two men injured

Shreveport Police Violent Crimes Detectives are investigating a shooting that left two men injured this morning in southeast Shreveport.

On December 6, 2017, just before 1:20 am Shreveport Police officers responded to the 900 block of Babylon Road on reports of a shooting. Officers arrived to find 43-year-old George Robinson suffering from at least one gunshot wound to the abdomen and one to the hand. During their investigation, officers learned that Robinson lived in the 7200 block of Bethany Street. Officers relocated to his residence where located a second victim, 47-year-old Richard Howard, suffering from blunt force trauma and a gunshot wound to the head.

Detectives with the Violent Crimes Unit and Crime Scene Unit were called and began their investigation. Evidence was collected from the scene and investigators continue to search for a person of interest and more information at this hour.

Investigators are asking for anyone with information about this incident to call Crime Stoppers at 318-673-7373 or visit their website at Lockemup.org. Crime Stoppers pays cash rewards for information leading to the identification and arrests of people responsible for crimes. Crime Stoppers does not want your name, just your information.
