City employee charged with Solicitation of Prostitution

Suspect Andrew Adams

An employee of the Shreveport City Attorney's Office has been arrested in connection with an investigation into allegations he used his official position to solicit prostitution.

On December 16, 2017, agents with the Shreveport Police Department's Vice Unit launched an investigation into allegations that an attorney with the Shreveport City Court used his position as a prosecutor to influence the disposition of a City Court case in exchange for sex.

Based on information obtained in the on-going investigation, authorities developed evidence that 29-year-old Andrew Adams, of the 8300 block of Chickamauga Circle, was involved in the illegal solicitation of prostitution. On December 20, 2017, agents with the Shreveport Police Department's Vice Unit arrested Adams and booked him into the Caddo Correctional Center on one count each of Soliciting Prostitution, Abuse of Power, and Malfeasance in Office. Bond in the matter was set at $30,700.00.
