A special thank you to the City of Shreveport's 2017 Economic Profile publication.

Dear Members,

It is my great honor to assume the duties of Board Chairman for 2018. Don Olson did a tremendous job as Chairman for 2017 and carried on a legacy of hard to fill shoes! Truthfully, no one who has ever served in this position would miss pointing out that it is the outstanding staff of the Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce that makes everything work. We are fortunate to have these experienced and talented people. I was honored to serve in the selection committee process that was tasked to identify and hire a new president. Dr. Timothy Magner has been a pivotal hire in our quest to take the mission of the Chamber to new heights and I am a believer that the Chamber's best days lie ahead under his leadership.

The Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce has an incredible legacy of bringing together the business community to advocate for expanded business opportunities and a better environment for business ventures to be formed, grown and to flourish. Achieving these goals has never been easy, but this quest has formed the cornerstone of the Chamber since 1910, and what was relevant then is relevant now. The Chamber's historical role was vital, as barriers to commerce, infrastructure problems, regulation and the lack of a clear voice for the business community threatened the region's potential and standing.

If you ask business owners today, they will often talk about regulatory burdens, taxes, uncertain government policy, healthcare and having a community that is attractive to growing companies or bringing in new businesses and their workforces. It is simply critical that the business community speaks with one voice as much as possible on these topics, if it wants to influence these issues for the betterment of our community. When we were looking for a new chamber president, our members drove home this point. The expectation was set that we needed to rally key business and governmental bodies to address these issues where there was common ground. Our governing officials, local, parish and state, need to hear a unified voice on priorities shared by area chambers, the Committee of One Hundred and the North Louisiana Economic Partnership, to name a few. These issues are too critical to our area to have any mixed messages going out.

In 1910, there were a myriad of business advocacy organizations attempting to address numerous barriers to trade and to promote business in our community. The Chamber was founded as a unifying voice to focus the power of these well-intended organizations whose clout had been lost in the fragmentation of their focuses. Today, we still have many organizations who hold themselves out as a voice for the business community. As distinguished as many of these groups are, common ground needs to be mapped out and joint work accomplished to make sure that key areas are addressed with impact and pooled talent. I am amazed at the intelligence, deep experience and resources represented in our chambers and business advocacy groups. If we rally to coordinate the efforts of these resources, who agree on the vast majority of issues, then the community will benefit.

Ronald Reagan was credited with saying: "There is no limit to the amount of good you can do if you don't care who gets the credit." That is a great principle! With this attitude in mind, we need to rally all parties with common ground and work cooperatively with a powerful voice, because our failure to seize opportunities in this rapidly changing world will have too many long term consequences for the future of our citizens, their jobs, their quality of life and their opportunities. With cooperation and support of the Chamber, groups have already begun coordination on policies affecting economic development, transportation infrastructure, and tax policy. These issues need to build momentum and important work has been done and is being done to address these areas.

So, why should you be a member of the Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce? I can sum that up in one word: ADVOCACY.

- Advocacy for your business in recognizing your success in the community and region. We want to help you celebrate your accomplishments and get the word out to your potential customers.

- Advocacy for public policy. Regulation and policy can either benefit or cause great harm to your business. As experienced businesspeople, we can help educate government on unintended consequences and potential damages to business, not only to protect our members, but to promote a pro-business environment in our region.

- Advocacy for tax policy. While we need to support quality services, education, infrastructure, fire protection and security in our region, we also need to make sure we do not cast an undue burden on our businesses and citizens, advocating for a long term strategic plan to address all of these issues and a careful look at how our taxing authorities can be efficient and effective.

- Advocacy for Education. Both our current business community and prospective new companies looking to locate in our region need an attractive workforce. We must be advocates for good education at all grade levels. If we are not effective in this quest, we will struggle with failing schools and a burden on our families from the curse of poverty. Educating our children and our workforce is the foundation for prosperity for all.

- Advocacy for the building and growth of your business. Whether it is networking, navigating the process of opening a new business, opening a new location or services like the ones provided by the Chamber's Government Procurement Center, we are here for business!

- Advocacy for our region. Unfortunately, the news media often pursues negative stories to sell their product. This is a continuation of the old adage: "If it bleeds, it leads!" Today, companies use the power of the internet to evaluate areas they are considering for relocation or expansion. Likewise, a new mobile and educated workforce will also do their own media research to evaluate relocating for an employment opportunity. The media's preoccupation with bad news, controversies and conspiracy theories might sell papers, but it does not sell our community. We would not want to censor the news, but we must work to get the many good stories we have into the media, even if it means finding alternative channels to offset negative bias. This is an emerging issue being raised by our expanding businesses competing to attract and retain a tech-savvy workforce, and it is a growing issue for all of us involved with economic development.

These things represent a big, but important agenda for the Chamber, and some issues like combating a negative-biased media are just in the formative stages. But with your continued support, this organization is up to the challenges you have given it. It has not been, nor shall it become "business as usual" for the board or the staff. We are primed to engage, collaborate, and lead the charge to promote economic prosperity, serve as a business advocate and celebrate the achievements of our region, and this is reflected in our mission statement and in our attitude. In 1910, our charge was to break down walls "whose shadows keep out the sun of prosperity and hold back the commercial supremacy of Shreveport." There is still a lot at stake for us in this region and we hope you will continue to partner with us as we lead a revitalized charge against the shadows that threaten your business. I look forward to serving as your Chairman for 2018 and look forward to championing your business. We are better together in this quest!

Sincerely,

Steve Roop

Greetings and welcome to Shreveport!

Shreveport serves as the economic driver and engine of our region and is commonly called the Capital of the Ark-La-Tex. We are the third largest city in Louisiana, leading the community in progressive growth and development. Shreveport is the seat of Caddo Parish and serves as the financial, medical, commercial, industrial, and governmental hub of the Ark-La-Tex. Our city is definitely open for business, and the increasing number of businesses opening each month is evident. Shreveport is a beautiful, safe, and diverse city with nearly 200, 000 residents, serving a metropolitan statistical area of more than 440, 000.

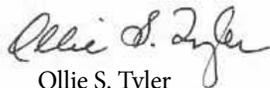

Shreveport's centralized geographic location, situated at the crossroads of three major interstate highways: I-20, I-49, and I-220, makes it an ideal commercial distribution hub in the United States. Our location also makes travel a breeze getting from one side of town to the other in fifteen to twenty minutes. We have a diverse, productive workforce with very strong work ethics.

Shreveport is home to some of the highest-rated public schools in the state. Caddo boasts twelve National Blue Schools of Excellence; one of the best private colleges in the United States; Southern University at Shreveport (SUSLA); Louisiana State University in Shreveport (LSUS); and Northwestern State University's School of Nursing. We are proud to be home to LSU Health Sciences Center, one of America's top-notch academic schools that includes medicine, graduate studies, and allied health professions. To meet the needs of our workforce development for business and industry, Northwest Louisiana Technical College offers extensive and customized vocational training programs.

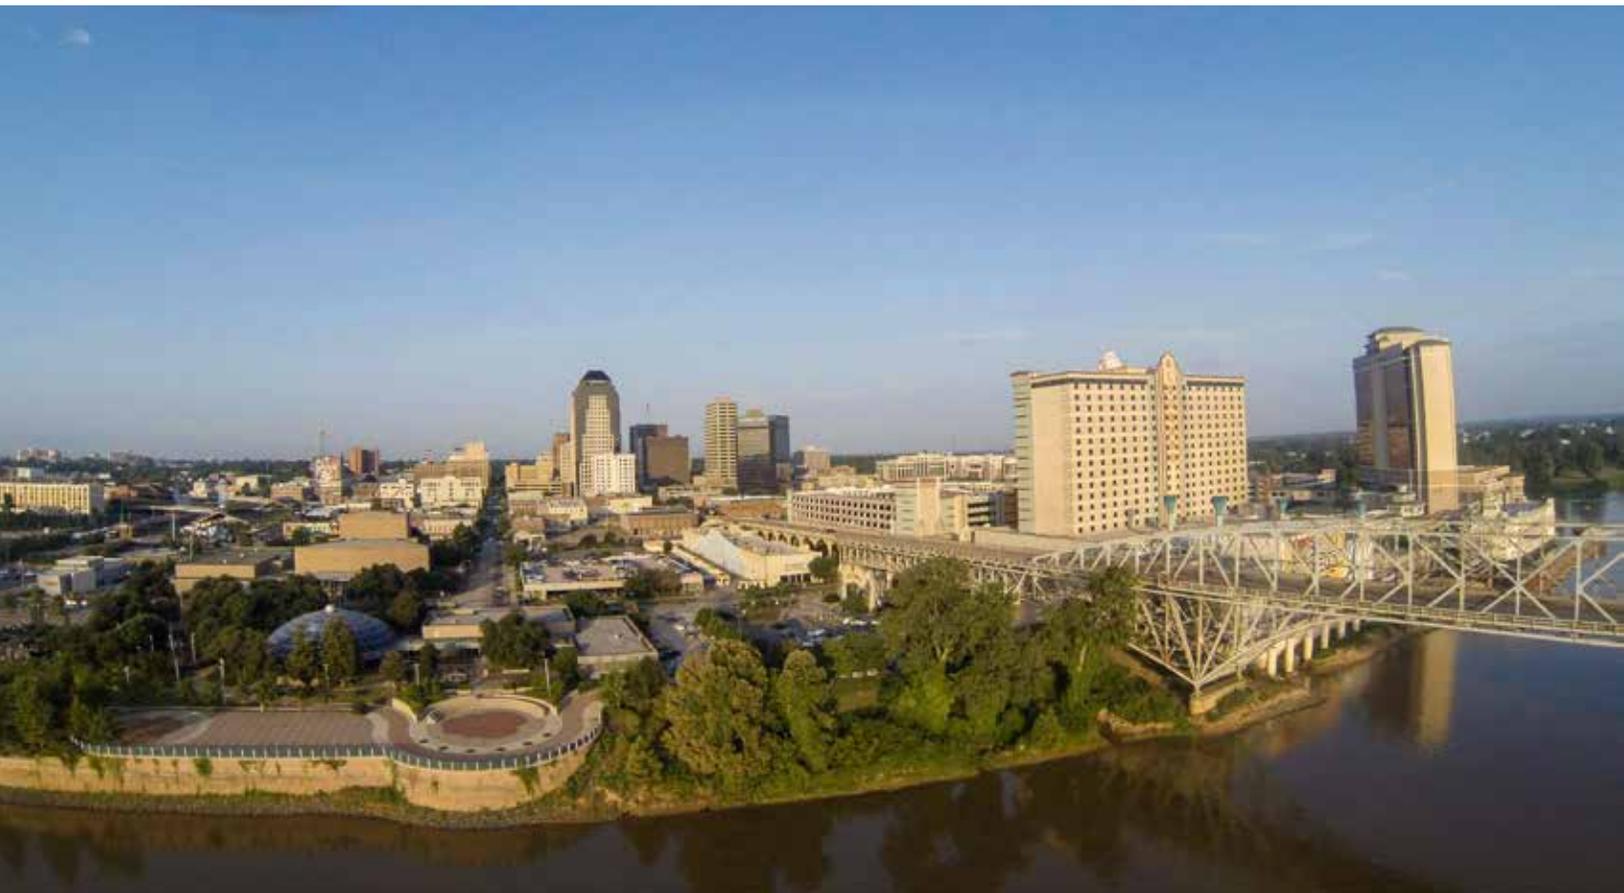

If you are now operating a business in Shreveport, thank you; if you are considering starting a business in Shreveport, I welcome you. In either case, the jobs you create for citizens, combined with the investment you have made or will make, are critical to the City of Shreveport's economic future. In addition to the support services offered through the Economic Development Department, all of the city's departments are here to assist as well. Our team is a one-stop assembly for all required planning, construction requirements, and processes.

I invite you to experience Shreveport firsthand and enjoy the clean air, the beautiful scenery, and the many amenities that we have to offer. Our city is truly a community like none other, and you will easily see why more and more companies are making Shreveport home.

SHREVEPORT LOUISIANA: The Center of Culture, Commerce, and Community in Northwest Louisiana

Welcome to Shreveport! We're glad you've decided to visit or better yet, relocate to our community.

Since its founding in 1835, Shreveport has been a focal point for economic development and a vibrant crossroads for people and ideas. Founded by the Shreve Town Company at the point in the Red River where Captain Henry Miller Shreve cleared the log jam called the 'Great Raft', Shreveport has evolved as the cultural and commercial center of an area which encompasses Northwest Louisiana but extends to include Southwest Arkansas and Northeast Texas, an area we affectionately call the Ark-La-Tex.

Just as Shreveport sits today at the confluence of east-west Interstate Highway 20 and north-south Interstate Highway 49, Shreveport has been a cultural crossroads for generations. The result is a festive mix of Cajun and Creole spices from south Louisiana with cowboy boots and oil rigs from nearby east Texas. Folks around here root for the NFL New Orleans Saints and Dallas Cowboys as well as college teams from Louisiana Tech, Grambling, LSU, Arkansas and Texas A&M. Shreveport hosts the Louisiana State Fair as well as the annual crawfish eating marvel that is the Mudbug Festival. We host the Red River Revel Arts and Music Festival and at least five different Mardi Gras parades complete with floats and beads galore. We have gumbo cooking contests, barbeque cook-offs, and both a wine and a craft beer festival. Not to mention at least 3 local craft breweries and a restaurant scene that includes Indian, Italian, Middle Eastern and Asian and range from tony steakhouses, to taco trucks and everything in between.

Shreveport's also the commercial center of the Arklatex with two airports, rail, port and road infrastructure. Ranked as one of the most cost competitive places to do business and among the top ten communities for economic potential, the Greater Shreveport area offers competitive advantages that make us a world class location for high quality talent, innovative companies, and global investment.

The Greater Shreveport area also supports a diverse and balanced economy which was named among the top "25 Cities on the Rise" in Louisiana by NerdWallet.com and No. 18 among "Best Opportunity Cities" by Forbes magazine. Southern Business and Development called Shreveport a "Game Changing Community." In 2015, Shreveport was recognized as the No. 1 place to build a new business by WalletHub.com.

The Greater Shreveport-Bossier area also offers a wide range of communities to suit any lifestyle choice. Whether it's a funky downtown loft that is walking distance to bistros and the theater, a suburban-style bedroom community, country club and golf course living, historic neighborhoods with stately homes, or a rural retreat, Shreveport has it all. And with access to some of the best schools in the state, Shreveport has a neighborhood community that is right for you.

So, whether you are looking for something familiar, or something a little different, chances are you'll find it here in Shreveport. Come give Shreveport a try, you'll be glad you did!

FUN FACTS ABOUT SHREVEPORT

The Louisiana Hayride was opened on April 3, 1948 and many country stars made their debut on the program. Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Hank Williams, Jim Reeves and Kitty Wells are just a few of the stars that got their start on the Louisiana Hayride, which is why it was referred to as The Cradle of the Stars. ▶

The legend is that Caddo Lake was formed from a massive earthquake, but scientists claim it was formed over several seismic events rather than just one. Whichever the case, Caddo Lake is factually the location of the first off-shore oil well in the nation.

Shreveport has been welcoming newcomers and businesses since being founded by the Shreve Town Company in 1835.

From beautiful lakes to gripping sites along the Red River, there is much to see and do in Greater Shreveport. Recently named one of the happiest cities in the nation, it's no wonder so many choose this vibrant metropolis as their home. The compassion for family, appreciation for the arts and dedication to business derive from the strong roots on which the city originated from.

Shreveport is also known for its smaller sister city, Bossier City with only the river separating them. Together they have six historic districts as well as many landmarks which are listed on the National Register. Among all Louisiana cities with multiple historic landmarks, Shreveport ranks second only to New Orleans.

Shreveport continues to make amazing strides toward growth and residents can expect further development of the downtown area that will continue to bring additional opportunities for both business and leisure. The city certainly originates from a rich culture and history, which makes it a wonderful place to visit and an even better place to call home.

HISTORY

Newcomers to the area might not be able to imagine it, but the Red River was once engulfed by large amounts of driftwood and was completely un-navigable. Thousands of years of flooding had caused debris and dislodged trees to create a logjam which resulted in an amalgamation that was wedged so tightly that a person could actually walk across it. The approximately 180 mile long area was named the Great Raft. Commanding the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Captain Henry Miller Shreve took a "snagboat" design he'd been working on and built a vessel called the Heliopolis, which was equipped with a steam-powered windlass that was used to pull large masses of wood and debris from the water. Secretary of War, Lewis Cass, ordered Captain Shreve to clear the Great Raft with the Heliopolis. The Shreve Town Company and the village of Shreve Town were named in Captain Henry Miller Shreve's honor. It was on March 20, 1839, that the town was incorporated as "Shreveport."

Alligator sightings are common at Caddo Lake, which contains a wetland.

▼ Great Raft Brewery is the first brewery to open in Shreveport since Prohibition. They offer free tours on Saturdays, complete with tastings.

▼ The Long-Allen Bridge, which also goes by "Neon Bridge" and "Texas Street Bridge," is truly a work of art in its own right. Constructed in 1933, the cantilever bridge is adorned with bright neon lights and extends across the Red River.

Shreveport has contributed more quarterbacks to the NFL than any other American city of its size. Terry Bradshaw, Stan Humphries, Don Mullins, Joe Ferguson, David Woodley, Brock Berlin and Craig Bradshaw, to name a few.

◀ Visible from I-20, the "Once in a Millennium Moon Mega Mural" spans 25,000 square feet on two sides of the AT&T building in Shreveport.

On September 16, 1922, the first ever Shriners Hospital in the world was established in Shreveport.

Shreveport was incorporated as a city in 1871 and its original boundaries were contained within a 64-block district located just west of the Red River. The economy and growth of Shreveport was based on steamboat commerce and centered on the river throughout the 1800s. The early key industries included lumber and manufacturing, and also included cotton and other agricultural crops. In time, as businesses began relying on the railroads as a means of shipping products and goods, the river once again became impassible due to a waning of steamboat traffic and debris accumulation.

In 1994, the river underwent restoration that renewed the Shreveport-Bossier area as a thriving port and shipping center. Once the river opened to steamboats again, riverboat gambling returned to the port and to this day draws in large degrees of revenue from tourism.

BARKSDALE AIR FORCE BASE

Barksdale Air Force Base, located in Bossier City, Louisiana, was dedicated on February 2, 1933 and was the result of many years of work by prominent citizens of Shreveport, Louisiana. As a result of their efforts, Bossier City was selected as the site of what at that time was the largest air field in the world, and construction began in 1931. Barksdale Air Force base is named for Lt. Eugene Hoy Barksdale, a veteran of World War I who was killed while flight testing an O-2 observation aircraft in 1926.

ACCRA COST OF LIVING INDEX

Shreveport Metropolitan Area

The Council for Community and Economic Research (C2ER) produces the ACCRA Cost of Living Index to provide a useful and reasonably accurate measure to compare cost of living differences among urban areas. Items on which the Index is based have been carefully chosen to reflect the different categories of consumer expenditures. Weights assigned to relative costs are based on government survey data on expenditure patterns for mid-management households. All items are priced in each place at a specified time and according to standardized specifications.

The index is based on the following categories:

- Grocery (13.61%)
- Housing (27.59%)
- Utilities (10.06%)
- Transportation (9.59%)
- Health (4.00%)
- Miscellaneous (35.15%)

Shreveport Rankings:

- Shreveport ranks 17 out of the top 25 cities with the lowest cost of living. The ranking – which assessed more than 220 cities with populations of more than 100,000 – focused primarily on the ratio of home values to income, median property taxes, median home values, median rent, and ratios of monthly housing cost to income for each place. They also took the price of gas, the price of groceries, and the ratio of the median rent to income into consideration. Business Insider (8-2016)
- Shreveport has the lowest manufacturing costs in the U.S. The study compared 100 cities within 10 countries by 26 cost factors – such as labor, tax, real estate, transportation, utilities and facilities – and forecasts what those costs will be during the next 10 years. KPMG (7-2016)
- Shreveport ranks No. 3 out of 10 cities - Money Under 30 found 10 cities with affordable housing and above average salaries for 18-to-34-year-olds. The research also included population, median income (with bachelor's degree or higher), young people making $35,000.00 or higher, and median rent. Money Under 30 (2016)
- Shreveport ranked No. 18 out of 150 cities in the United States as the best place to start a business in 2016. WalletHub, a personal finance social network, released the study, which analyzed start-up opportunities in the 150 most-populated cities in the U.S. Shreveport scores high in affordability. Among 16 key factors in WalletHub's study, Shreveport is 10th in the nation for office space affordability, 13th for cost of living, 19th for human capital – that is, a skilled workforce – and 24th in labor cost. WalletHub (5-2016)
- Shreveport is the most cost-friendly city to do business among the 27 small-sized U.S. metro areas. (those with populations less than 750,000), according to the 2016 Competitive Alternatives study by KPMG LLP, the audit, tax and advisory firm. Shreveport's favorable natural gas costs and low effective corporate income tax rate contributed to its first place ranking in the study, which compares key cities across a range of costs and other factors related to doing business. (3-2016)
- Shreveport ranks in the Top Ten of Millennial Friendly Cities. Shreveport, Louisiana ranks among the top ten real estate markets nationwide where millennials make up the greatest share of first-time home buyers. During the first half of 2015, approximately 44 percent of first time home buyers in Shreveport are ages 25-34, as compared to the national average of 37 percent. That makes Shreveport one of the most millennial friendly cities in the U.S. Bloomberg Business citing data from Realtor.com (9-2015)

FACTORS THAT MAKE SHREVEPORT-BOSSIER COMPETITIVE:

- ▶ Louisiana effectively provides a zero corporate income tax environment for items produced in Louisiana and exports to other regions.
- ▶ As of July 2009, Shreveport-Bossier's electricity, water, natural gas, machinery, and equipment used by production centers and manufacturers, are effectively exempt from sales tax. That means businesses can afford to invest in the very best production equipment without needless overhead increases.
- ▶ Louisiana's low number of unionized workers and the ratio of worker skill-to-pay favors the businesses and organizations seeking the best talent at the most affordable rates.
- ▶ Louisiana businesses have a plethora of incentives from state, local and federal levels, including many tax incentives unique to the state and region.
- ▶ Louisiana, as a right-to-work state, allows business owners the flexibility to select and retain the most productive laborers.
- ▶ Shreveport recently passed a nondiscrimination clause to ensure all businesses and their workers are protected from intolerance, further adding to the cultural and professional value of the region.
- ▶ With the completion of I-49 North, and the projected completion of 3132, expansion to the Port of Caddo-Bossier will make the region a hub for east-west and north-south travelers, and will provide important shipping avenues for manufacturers.

COMMERCE

Louisiana claims the title for the lowest cost U.S. state, with three cities – Shreveport, Baton Rouge and New Orleans – ranking among the top four cities in this region.

Ranked as the No. 1 most cost competitive place to do business in the southeast region by KPMG Competitive Alternatives (2016).

The southeast represents the lowest cost region in the United States and all cities in the region have business costs more than 4.5 percent below the U.S. baseline. The range of variation in business costs among cities in this region (from lowest cost to highest cost) is also less than in other regions of the US.

Jump Start

Jump Start is Louisiana's innovative career and technical education (CTE) high school program. Jump Start prepares students to lead productive adult lives, capable of continuing their education after high school while earning certifications in high-wage career sectors. Students are required to attain industry-promulgated, industry-valued credentials in order to graduate with a Jump Start Career Diploma. (Jump Start is an elective path for students pursuing a university-preparatory diploma.)

Regional teams – partnerships among K-12 and post-secondary educators, industry leaders and experts in workforce development and economic development – lead the local implementation of Jump Start, creating graduation pathways, identifying critical industry credentials and collaborating to provide workplace experiences for students and teachers that respond to the needs of employers in their regions. Schools receive the same accountability grade credit for preparing students for careers in high-demand job sectors as they do for students who achieve top academic honors.

Employers and employer representatives make up another critical role in the regional Jump Start teams, as they provide feedback on training and industry-based credentials that are recognized and needed by their industries. They also provide valuable workplace experiences both for teachers and students, through externships and internships, job shadowing, and facility tours. Employers can also greatly support the Jump Start Career Diploma's success through equipment donations.

EXPANDING VISIBILITY IN THE MARKETPLACE

Whether it is a groundbreaking ceremony or a ribbon cutting to commemorate a business opening its doors, we want to be there to celebrate with you every step of the way. The Chamber values its partnerships and cultivates a relationship to serve them.

RIBBON CUTTINGS, GRAND OPENINGS AND GROUNDBREAKINGS

One part of the Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce’s mission is to “celebrate the achievements of our region.” What better way to do that than by celebrating our valued members and their business milestones? As a Chamber member, you can use these momentous occasions in your business’s history to gain more attention and notoriety. Let us help! We’ll post your celebration details on our website calendar, newsletter and social media pages, assist you with event planning, emcee the event, provide the ribbon and ceremonial-size scissors, plus we’ll invite our Chamber Diplomats, Board of Directors and key city officials if you’d like. All at no cost to our members.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Another way the Chamber celebrates our region is through the many special events we host throughout the year. Whether it’s an awards dinner, a luncheon or a simple breakfast, there is always a reason to celebrate at the Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce! Annually we host the Minority Business Opportunity Awards, the ATHENA International Leadership Awards Luncheon, the J. Pat Beaird Industry of the Year and Forum Small Businesses of the Year Awards and the annual 40 Under 40 Awards Gala.

Smaller more intimate gatherings like our Young Professionals Initiative (YPI) socials happen once a month. Both YPI and our Business Development Connection host quarterly lunch and learns that are designed to enhance professional development and business acumen respectively. Our Breakfast of Champions and “What’s Happening” breakfasts are also quarterly. Breakfast of Champions highlights local businesses and our volunteers, while “What’s Happening” offers broader perspective on issues in our community.

But that's not all! We also host our annual meeting to honor our members and to talk about the year ahead. In the spring, the NWLA Golf Tournament - entering its 21st year - is a fun, interactive teambuilding exercise for local businesses.

And in between all of those major events, we also partner with other agencies and economic development associations in the Ark-La-Tex to host workshops, classes and seminars to help your business grow and thrive!

There's never a dull moment at the Chamber!

REFERRALS, EXPOSURE AND MORE

The Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce is a tremendous resource for public exposure and business referrals.

Our five-star-accredited Chamber is among the top one percent of Chambers of Commerce in the nation, and we use our network to help promote our members through personal calls, face-to-face visits, various publications and online at www.shreveportchamber.org.

We receive calls each month from individuals seeking to do business in the Greater Shreveport region, and we always refer them to one of our member businesses. Plus, our website's online membership directory lists all of our members, their addresses and contact information. And since our website is ranked at 5 by Google for search engine optimization, your membership at the Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce gets you even more hits!

Members can also take advantage of our discounted media packages, high social media saturation and media contacts to increase their visibility and exposure in the marketplace.

INFLUENCING LEGISLATION

The Greater Shreveport Chamber of Commerce's staff and Public Policy Committee act as advocates for local business. Through our advocates, the Chamber monitors the legislature and provides information to elected officials concerning matters of interest to our members.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

GREATER SHREVEPORT LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

For nearly 40 years, the Chamber has been identifying and preparing future leaders through the Greater Shreveport Leadership Program. Program participants meet monthly and travel as a group to various locations throughout the community to experience our area's rich history and to become better acquainted with entities and issues related to government affairs, education, economic development, transportation, communications, small business and health care. Graduates of this tuition-based program assume active roles in the Chamber and become involved in the development of initiatives that bring solutions to community challenges.

The Legislative Policy Committee of the Greater Shreveport Chamber has the responsibility to review and make recommendations to the Chamber Board of Directors on legislative policy and positions affecting business and the Northwest Louisiana community. Proposals for bond elections, potential new taxes, and state and federal legislation are examples of issues delegated to this committee.

Participation on this committee is limited to Chamber members, particularly participants who have general knowledge of the political and legislative process. Committee members are asked to recommend policy positions that are in the interest of the entire Chamber membership and are not exclusive to special-interest issues.
