Man charged in west Shreveport murder attempt

Suspect DeAndrew Moseley

Shreveport Police have jailed a man in connection to an early September murder attempt.

On September 3, 2018, just before 8:00 p.m., Shreveport Police were dispatched to Willis Knighton North hospital on reports of a man arriving at the facility suffering from gunshot injuries. 35-year-old Paxton Davis was transported to the hospital by personal vehicle and was suffering from a non-life threatening gunshot injury to his abdomen. Davis was able to tell officers that the shooting took place in the 3500 block of Woodrow Avenue. Officers located and secured the crime scene and called for detectives.

Investigators with the Violent Crimes and Crime Scene Units responded to the scene. Investigators collected evidence and conducted interviews in the days following the incident, which led them to identify 19-year-old DeAndrew Mosley, of the 3500 block of Woodrow, as the person they believed responsible for shooting Davis.. On September 7, 2018, investigators procured a warrant for Mosely charging him with one count of Attempted Second Degree Murder. Bond was set at $75,000.00. On September 11, 2018, Moseley surrendered himself to investigators. Following interviews he was booked into the Shreveport City Jail on his warrant and one count of Aggravated Assault with a Firearm, stemming from the same shooting incident.
