FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Shreveport man sought on domestic battery charges

Suspect Shon Coleman

Shreveport Police investigators are seeking the whereabouts of a man accused of domestic abuse battery from earlier this month.

On December 1, 2018, Shreveport Police patrol officers were called to the 400 block of Olive Street relative to a physical domestic call. Upon arrival, officers learned a female victim was allegedly strangled around the neck by her child's father, who fled the scene prior to officers arrival. Since the investigation began, police detectives have gathered information and evidence leading them to name 31-year-old Shon Coleman as a suspect in the crime. Investigators procured a warrant for Coleman's arrest, charging him with one count of domestic abuse battery with strangulation, one count of Domestic Abuse Battery with Child Endangerment, and one count of False Imprisonment.

Investigators are asking anyone with the whereabouts of Coleman to contact them at 318-673-6955. Those wishing to remain anonymous can contact Shreveport Caddo Crime Stoppers at 318 673-7373 or via their app, P3Tips.
