Weekend crash claims life

A three vehicle crash in east Shreveport has claimed the life of a man over the weekend.

At approximately 7:00 p.m. on March 29, 2019, members of the Shreveport Police Department's Patrol Division responded to a three vehicle crash that occurred in the 2200 block of Youree Drive. Upon officer's arrival at the crash, it was learned that driver of a 2007 Pontiac, 29 year-old Brandon Alexander, was pronounced deceased on scene.

Information and evidence recovered at the scene of the accident suggests the decedent's vehicle was south bound on the 2200 block of Youree Drive. Alexander then crossed the grassy median, swiping the front of a red 2012 Nissan VRS, driven by 56 year-old Melonie Hornbeak. The impact put Alexander's vehicle into a spin before being T-boned by a black 2014 Chevy Z71, driven by 34 year-old Joshua Knowles. Hornbeak and Knowles were transported to the Shreveport Police Department's Field Support Bureau where they voluntarily submitted to state mandated toxicology tests. This investigation is ongoing at this time.
