Mayor's Summer Internship Program Culminates Friday

Mayor Adrian Perkins' Future Leaders of Shreveport Summer Internship Program will wrap up Friday with a simulated society game at Riverview Hall.

Goodwill Industries will facilitate "Reality City" which will give the interns an opportunity to experience a brief scenario of balancing career, salary, and family at various income levels. Several community and corporate partners are working with the City of Shreveport to create this simulation for the interns.

Students will learn leadership skills training and get to participate in simulated impairment with goggles from Safety Town to help them understand the realities of drinking and driving.

Media interested in covering this event should meet Communications Director Marquel Sennet at Riverview Hall at 9:30 a.m.
