(REGULAR MEETING ON MATTERS WHICH ARE ON THE AGENDA)

Michael Labban, Craig Lee and Tracy Toups spoke in opposition to Ordinance No. 117 of 2022.

John Settle made general comments as it relates to the Airport Authority appointment, Ordinance No 113, 115, 117 and 121 of 2022.

Sammy Mears spoke in support of Resolution No(s) 111 and 112 of 2022.

Luke Wagon and Leo Stevenson spoke in support of Ordinance No. 117 of 2022.

Councilman Boucher: I want to say this for the record, I appreciate Brookshires, I shop there probably more than any grocery store in town because I do like the concept of it being local. The issue that I have with the physical separation and why this was brought up myself and Councilman Nickelson is not because of Brookshire's or Wal-Mart or Kroger or Albertsons. We have certain stores in this community that can't even keep their grass cut or keep the trash in the dumpster. I don't trust them to be on the corner selling liquor on the open shelves. But you know, I'm with Councilman Nickelson, this would elevate the problem that we have right now and maybe we can address it down the road. The other issue is to allow Brookshire's and Kroger and Albertsons and Wal-Mart, I'm trying to get everybody in there, to be able to sell alcohol on the shelves. But right now, the thought of some stores in this community being able to have alcohol on the shelves is a little bit dishearten for me and scary. So, that's the reason, it's not against Brookshire's. I know you manage your store well, that's why I shop there. But thank you.

Bernie Woods spoke in opposition to Ordinance No. 117 of 2022

Councilman Boucher: Mr. Woods, I want to tell you personally that I'm very impressed with your store. I think that it's an asset to that community and I think that you have proven yourself very well with that store and I'm glad that it's there, just for the record. Secondly, I don't believe with the physical separation that the amendment Councilman Nickelson and myself proposed basically says that you have to be 21 years of age to go into a store that sells liquor. So, that would protect you, without that amendment then that opens it up to everybody. So, I just wanted to make that clear that that amendment does do exactly what you are wanting to be able to sell liquor and other commodities like a bottle of water. This amendment would allow that for only liquor stores, but it wouldn't allow a corner drug store or a dollar store to be able to sell it.

Suzanne Phillips and Connor O'Neal made general comments as it relates to Ordinance No. 110 of 2022.

Councilman Nickelson: I appreciate you being here today, and I would like to say for the record so that you can report back to your superiors that we appreciate your decision to invest in Shreveport. My purpose is not to dissuade that investment. I am confident that the MPC in short order will be able to address the concerns of the residents and with perhaps with very modest concessions concerning aesthetic and other issues we will be able to get you up and running. So, thank you very much for being here.

WHEREAS, Tony's skills on the gridiron earned him a full athletic scholarship to Wiley College. The following year, he transferred to Southern University A&M College where a knee injury ended his football career. He continued his education and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education and Math in 1962; and
WHEREAS, Tony began his professional career as a math teacher at Desoto High School (Mansfield, LA) in the early 1960's, where he was also the assistant football coach and head baseball coach. While coaching he helped two future major-league pitchers, Vida Blue and Jesse

Hudson, get started in baseball; and

WHEREAS, Tony was hired as an assistant football coach and subsequently promoted to head coach at Walnut Hill High School in Shreveport, Louisiana. He was employed there for five years; and

WHEREAS, When Caddo Parish schools integrated in January 1970 and Walnut Hill was phased out, Tony became a football assistant and head baseball coach at Southwood High School. As a result of integration, black head coaches who had been moved to assistant jobs at previously all-white schools were promised head coaching jobs as those jobs would come available. This happened for Tony in 1973 when Huntington High School opened in Shreveport. He became the Raiders' first athletic director and head coach. He served in these roles for 18 years; and

WHEREAS, Tony's "second job" as a basketball referee kept him on the road each winter from 1965 to 1997. At times, he called games in the Metro Conference, the Southland, SWAC, TAAC, and Big State (Texas schools), plus games for smaller schools in East Texas; and

His family's motto was "faith, family and football." He taught all of his students the value of hard work, discipline, and no regrets. Councilman Boucher: I think one thing that we all ought to know and the public needs to know and a lot of liquor store owners that are honestly worried about their business. And I understand that, I'm business friendly but they have to be thousand feet from a residence and that's going to preclude a lot of, and let's just say dollar stores, drug stores because even if they have beer and wine, they are going to have to, and correct me if I'm wrong. They are going to have to come to y'all for a new hard alcohol license, correct?

Corporal Glass-Bradley: Yes, they will have to be zoned again for high content.

Councilman Boucher: I wish this had gone the other way; I will just say that for the record. I just think that all seven of us up here agree that there had to be changes to this because we are going to lose local business if we don't.
