Arrest Made in Afternoon Shooting

Sami Rahman

On March 24, 2025, at approximately 2:55 p.m., Shreveport Police officers responded to a reported shooting at Discount Lube, 2030 Nelson Street.

The investigation revealed that the victim had arrived at the location for an oil change service. During a negotiation over the service cost, a verbal altercation occurred between the victim and the suspect, identified as 25-year-old Sami Rahman. The victim attempted to retreat to his vehicle, but the confrontation continued when the suspect returned, visibly holding a firearm behind his leg.

As the victim turned to leave, he heard a loud pop, ducked for cover, and quickly realized he had been shot in the left calf muscle. The victim was transported by a privately owned vehicle to a nearby fire station and subsequently transferred to LSU Health with life-threatening injuries.

The suspect initially fled the scene but later returned, where officers took him into custody without incident. Rahman was transported to the Shreveport City Jail and charged with 2nd Degree Aggravated Battery.
