Road Rage Incident Leads to Arrest

Timothy Brown

A road rage incident on June 27th has resulted in the arrest of 34-year-old Timothy Brown.

Just after 3:00 p.m., officers responded to a call in the 1100 block of East Bert Kouns Industrial Loop. The victim told police he had unintentionally cut off another driver while traveling along the roadway. The driver of the other vehicle, later identified as Brown, began following the victim and motioned for him to pull over.

Once stopped, Brown allegedly approached the victim's vehicle with a handgun and pointed it directly at him. Fearing for his safety, the victim quickly fled the scene and contacted authorities.

Shreveport Police patrol officers were able to identify Brown, and he was taken into custody without further incident. He faces charges related to aggravated assault with a firearm.

This case serves as a strong reminder that firearms should never be used as a means of resolving conflict—especially during a traffic dispute. Regardless of how frustrated you may be by another driver's actions, pointing a weapon at someone who is not actively threatening your life is a crime.

Let cooler heads prevail. If you feel endangered or witness reckless driving, call the police—don't escalate the situation.
