Stabbing Arrest on West Canal

Brittany Hill

Shreveport Police officers have arrested a woman following a stabbing incident that occurred in the 6100 block of West Canal.

Officers responded after a male victim reported that Brittany Hill, who had been staying with him for several days, stabbed him during an altercation. According to the victim, both had been drinking when Hill allegedly became combative and used a black pocketknife to stab him in the right leg above the knee. The injury resulted in a puncture wound that may require stitches.

Violent Crimes detectives were notified and responded to the scene to begin the investigation. Patrol officers conducted a search of the area and quickly located Hill in the 5900 block of West Canal, where she was taken into custody without incident.

Chief Smith commends the officers for their swift response and effective work in bringing this case to a prompt resolution.
