Shreveport Police Arrest Man Following Knife Threat on Cotton Street

Joshua Hogue

Shreveport Police have arrested Joshua Hogue following a violent incident that occurred on January 8, at approximately 1:00 a.m., in the 400 block of Cotton Street.

Officers responded to reports that a male suspect was actively chasing a female while armed with a knife. Upon arrival, officers contacted the victim, who provided a detailed description of the suspect. The victim stated that the man had approached her asking for money, and when she refused, he produced a knife and threatened her before chasing her.

Responding officers quickly located Hogue nearby and found him still in possession of the knife. He was taken into custody without further incident and has been charged with one count of aggravated assault.

Investigating officers were also able to utilize footage from the Shreveport Police Department's Real Time Crime Center, which confirmed the suspect's actions and corroborated the victim's account. This incident highlights the effectiveness of the department's real-time camera technology in quickly identifying threats and assisting officers in making timely arrests.

The Shreveport Police Department remains committed to using all available resources to protect the community and respond swiftly to violent behavior.
