Water Service Update for Ford Street Area

Shreveport Water and Sewerage crews worked overnight to address an issue affecting water service along Ford Street. Water service has been restored; however, some customers in the area may continue to experience low water pressure at this time.

The affected areas include:

- * Ford Street from Earnest B. Miller to Leroy Street
- * Ford Street and North Holtzman to Parkman and North Holtzman, including Canaan Towers

Crews will remain on site today and are working to fully resolve the issue by the end of the day.

This is an isolated incident, and at this time there are no other major system issues being reported across the city.

The Department of Water and Sewerage appreciates the public's patience and understanding as crews complete final repairs and work to restore normal water pressure.
